DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(4) because reference character "24" has been used to designate both the lid and the base, as has reference character "26". See Figures 2 and 3 and the specification, pages 5 and 6. A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 9-15 and 17-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The preamble of the claims is to a method, but the independent claim is drawn to an article. For the purposes of examination, claims 9-15 and 17-20 are assumed to be article claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Younessian et al. (US Patent 5,894,007). Younessian et al. discloses the claimed limitations of making hard sided luggage (30) with a lid (40) and a base (80) by introducing a pressure differential which is usually an elevated gas pressure within the form space (212) of the mold (206) (column 15, lines 25-27) and a reduced gas pressure within evacuation space (210); i.e., blow molding and evacuating.

6. Claims 1-3, 8, 13, 14, and 16-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Wilcox et al. (US Patent 4,487,328). Wilcox et al. discloses the process and article claimed (column 2, lines 43-46 and column 3, lines 25-27), including a double wall lid. Regarding claim 3, Wilcox et al. discloses intermittent portions which contact the inner surface of the outer wall (See Figure 1, element number 40).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 8, 9, 16, and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schneider (EP 367863) in view of Remington (US Patent 4,260,043). Schneider teaches forming a blow molded suitcase. Schneider does not teach a Z beam or an extrusion that clips onto a Z beam. Remington teaches clipping an extrusion on to a Z-beam of a suitcase. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to use the method taught by Remington to modify the article taught by Schneider in order to provide strength to the finished article.

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 4-7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 1732

10. Claims 10-15 and 17-20 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
